Something about sharing..... and something that redirects people to upload on their own as well.

I wish Databrary staff to review and assist with my data (which I may upload own my own or get help with, below).

I understand that Databrary staff may contact me with questions and/or reorganize my data for better presentation and sharing.

Briefly describe the files to be uploaded. This helps us make sense of the data and its organization. *required

- is this cross-sectional or longitudinal data?

- does each video correspond to a single participant?

- where are the videos collected?

- [other guiding questions, of things we'd like to know]

If you already have spreadsheet(s) of metadata that describe how your data is organized, please upload them here.

If you [...], you may describe the data you will collect in the design tab, and begin uploading files in the data spreadsheet.

If you already have a backlog of data that you'd like to upload with additional assistance, you may do so here and someone from the Databrary team will be in touch with you soon.

Briefly describe the files to be uploaded. This helps us make sense of the data and its organization. *required

I have an old dataset of twenty 5-years-olds playing at home during winter or summer. Each video is an hour long, of one child playing.
